BAD WEATHER
HELD ALAMEDA

HINDON & PASSENGERS, 35 SACKS MAIL AND 125 TONS FREIGHT—BOATED SHIPMAN.

A day late, the Oceanic steamship Alameda, Captain Dawdell, arrived from San Francisco this morning, docking at the Cruise wharf at 9 o'clock, where a large crowd had gathered to meet returning Honolulu folks and friends from abroad.

Bad weather delayed the ship most.
She left the Golden Gate three hours late on account of a delay in the mails and lost the rest of her time owing to rough seas and heavy winds. For four days out of San Francisco strong westerly winds and angry seas checked her progress. The good ship suffered no damage during the storm. She came through with her engines in the usual good condition and everything shipshape.

Fifty passengers arrived in the cabin and in the stowage there were 15 she brought 25 sacks of mail and 125 tons of freight a larger amount than usual.

On Saturday January 5, the day of departure from San Francisco, the Alameda accepted the U. S. A. Transport Sherman, Captain Johnston, en route to Manila via Honolulu. This was at 4:15 p. m. The next day the Alameda and the Matson S. S. Enterprise, Captain Younger going to San Francisco from these islands. On Monday, January 7, she sighted a ship, but did not make out her name.

Her time was 6 days 19 hours and 40 minutes to this port.

W. H. House Jr., returned in the Alameda. Attorney Frank E. Thompson came home from a business trip to the mainland. Mrs. Henry E. High-ton, widow of Judge Highton who died here a few days ago, arrived in the Honolulu boat to take charge of the remains. W. A. Love is one of the returning Hawaiians. Mrs. Love is also on the homeward list. Guy Livingston is home again looking fat. John Ena, Jr., son of the late John Ena, joins his family here.

The majority of those arriving in the Alameda are tourists. Mr. and Mrs.
S. O. Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. H. D.
Johnson are honeymoon couples. The former bring along an automobile, the better to enjoy the attractions of Haw-aiki. S. O. Johnson is a wealthy lumber man of the northern section of California. C. T. Williams comes to take a position with the Paradise of the Pacific. He is an engraver.

CHILLINGWORTH AND
HIS LIQUOR BILL

THE SENATOR-ELECT IS BUSILY ENGAGED IN DRAWING UP A LIQUOR BILL.

Senator-elect Charles F. Chilling-worth is at present busily engaged upon the drafting of a liquor bill which he will submit to the coming legislature for their consideration. It is supposed to be drawn up in accordance with the ideas of the leaders of the Republican party.

The bill as outlined this morning by the senator-elect will call for high license and a cafe license of $500. It will not have a clause regarding the issuing of license to any party other than a citizen. The bill will oppose local option and will prohibit any music in or upon the premises of a saloon. It will provide for the punishment of the saloon-keepers who sell liquor to minors or to women. In as severe a manner as the violation of any other clause in the license.

In discussing the different provisions the senator-elect said: "I am in favor of high license and I also believe that a cafe license of about $500 would be about right as that would take the license from most of the Orientals and still allow the continuance of places like the Grill and Charlie McCarthy's place, which in my estimation are all right."

"I do not believe in the matter of refusing a license to all with the exception of citizens. This I believe to be unconstitutional, and I think it would be thrown out by the Supreme Court. I understand that the Japanese Liquor Dealers have engaged a lawyer already to fight any such clause. I believe that the high license would keep most of these fellows from the field."

"I will have a section in the bill prohibiting the sale of liquor to minors and women upon the same penalty as is called for by the violation of any other section of the license. I will also have the bill so drawn up as to prohibit music in the saloon or upon the premises."

OCEANIC BONDS

SAN FRANCISCO, January 2.—The Oceanic Steamship Company paid its coupons yesterday amounting to $40,000 which the company had permitted to become delinquent July 1, 1906. The coupons which became due January 1, 1907, have not been paid, nor has it been announced when they will be ordered paid. The delinquent coupons, it is presumed, were ordered paid in order to prevent the trustees from foreclosing Purser Beckley reports a few slight quakes of the earth in the Hilo district yesterday morning. There was no glow visible from the crater of Mokuawewewo last night, but the fire is still there and there is also fire in the crater of Kilauea.

F. M. Swanny who returned from Kohala this morning, states that he was in Kohala at the time of the activity of Mokuawewewo. No earthquakes were felt in that district, but the glow on the heavens, from the fire in the pit was visible in Kohala and very beautiful.
